

In the early 1900's Boutwell Owens produced packaging for a customer called the Victor Talking Machine Company, maker of the Victrola your grandparents listened to.

What does today's client need in a Packaging Firm?

Nobody knows better than you, and we know how to listen. Our product line and service offering continue to evolve to meet the changing needs of our clients. Our salespeople have a wide range of experience and creativity, and will provide the highest level of detailed support and guidance on your next project. Give us a call to find out how we can help you today!

An original Victrola. Boutwell Owens produced packaging for the company that made these in the early 1900's. We continue today to provide the best value in the printed paper-board packaging industry as we have since 1887.

Our Mission

In today's economy, you don't want to do business with a company that will be here today and gone tomorrow. For the development of the first package for the Victrola phonograph replacement needle, Boutwell Owens was chosen. We simply offered the best value and we listened to our customer's needs.

It has been a long road since our beginning in 1887 in Leominster, Massachusetts, but the core mission of our firm has remained true to the vision of our founders. Our technology and our special processes are state-of-the-art, but we believe one of the reasons we've been in business so long is because of our outstanding service to our customers. Boutwell Owens - we know how to listen, and we're here to stay.
